"HEALTH IS WEALTH."

A clear bright eye
That can pierce the sky
With the strength of an eagle's vision,
And a steady brain
That can bear the strain
And the shock of the world's collision;

A well-knit frame,
With a ruddy flame
Aglow, and the pulses leaping
With the measured time
Of a dulcet rhyme,
Their beautiful record keeping;

A roundest cheek
Where the roses speak
Of a soil that is rich for thriving,
And a chest so grand
That the lungs expand
Exultant, without the striving;

A breath like morn,
With the crimson dawn
If fresh in its dewy sweetness;
A manner bright,
And a spirit light,
With joy at full completeness;

O, give me these,
Nature's harmonies,
And keep all your golden treasures;
For what is wealth
To the boon of health
And its sweet attendant pleasures!

"Wasn't that a finished sermon we had this morning?" asked one person of another, as they came out of the church together. "Finished!" was the reply, 'yes, it was finished at last, although I began to think it never would be."

The editor of the Indiana Student thus admonishes a contributor: "Now, sir, next time when you undertake to to answer a production, do so in some logical manner; don't snatch up your pen and go rip snorting along in a style that shows you to be an unconscionable ass."

Fifty newly made saints of the Mormon persuasion, passed through Washington, recently, on their way to their Holy City. They were from the Southern states, and about as prepossessing in appearance as the ordinary run of Mormons.

Des Moines county, Iowa, has a Sheriffess! Her name is Mrs. Latty. She acts as deputy for her husband, faces desparadoes who attempt to escape, flogs prisoners who are boisterous and indecent, and takes convicts to the penitentiary—all this single-handed and alone.

Under a new law, township trustees may appropriate from the road fund fifty dollars annually for the purpose of providing suitable watering places for man and beast on public highways. We hope that on all roads in this county the trustees will avail themselves of this privilege.

INDEPENDENT.

A fast preacher in that lively village known as New York—the preacher's name is Smythe—lately met with some of the newspaper reporters on Sunday, just after he had finished his sermon, in a saloon, and treated them to gin, while he modified his drink (of gin) by mixing it with milk. Since then the church authorities have dispensed with his services. They very properly think that milk without gin is good enough for a preacher.

Harper's Weekly.—During the war, and since, this paper has done a faithful part in favor of freedom, not only by its able editorials and selections, but also with its numerous, well executed and most expressive pictorial representations. A good picture tells more to the eye at a glance, very often, than half an hour's study and reading. Such have frequently graced the pages of this model Weekly, and they have materially aided in making tyranny in all its forms a hated thing in the eyes of the American people. But that work is almost if not quite finished, yet there are other evils which can be pictured in all their horrible aspects by such speaking cartoons as are presented by Nast. The last number of the Weekly contains one of these photographs, we may term it, of another evil, well entitled The Court of Death. Here the grim monster is represented as distributing prizes, and Bacchus takes the premium. They make a terrible looking pair, but as naturally belong together as that water runs down hill. Death and drunkenness are an old firm, and have slain their thousands, while more myriads tasted of the miseries they entail. The bony skeleton most appropriately enrobes a terrible looking monster with an appropriate emblem, on which are inscribed the skull and cross bones. Near them are certain officials in their interest, one of whom has a long scroll on which is inscribed "Bacchus's roll of victims—the longest list of Death's crimes and miseries." Such a picture as this presents, truthful, striking and full of meaning, if indelibly painted on every grogshop door in the country would have the effect to frighten thousands away from these dens of iniquity, because every victim can here see his doom as soon as he enters such a place and sells his soul by five cent pieces. It is an eloquent and forcible temperance document.

The Lady's Friend.—The steel plate for this number is a pretty rural picture, natural and amusing—a couple of little children cowering before the wrath of the mother hen, from whom the boy has stolen one of her chicks. The fashion plate and literary matter, as usual, is unsurpassed by any publication of the kind in the country. $2,50 per year. Deacon & Peterson, Philadelphia

The mails have been considerably tangled up of late. Papers which we used to receive next day after publication, the Herald and Tribune of New York, are now from three to five and six days in reaching this place. Hope it soon will come right.

THE ADVANCE.—This excellent paper, which Henry Ward Beecher says is now "standing fairly on the highest ground yet reached by religious journals in America," is offered to the public for one dollar, from June until January next. To all who would be glad to try The Advance, an excellent opportunity is thus offered.

PROHIBITION AT THE CAPITAL.

There is a fair prospect, if a bill introduced by Mr. Pomeroy in the senate, becomes a law, that the disgrace of drunkenness in public may become less frequent in Washington. The bill prohibits the sale of intoxicating liquors within the district of Columbia, excepting only the sale of poisons, medicines and alcohol by druggists, and the sales of the latter are surrounded with restrictions, among which is the requirement that a registry of them and of the buyers shall be kept open to police and official inspection. The keeping of dram-shops and the retail business are especially aimed at by the provisions of the bill. It is stringent in regard to sales to minors; and notification by the relatives of any person that he is a drunkard or intemperate will prevent the sale of liquor to him. Aside from the fines and penalties imposed for violations of the different provisions of the bill, the seller of liquors is to be held responsible for all the injuries which may be committed by the person whom his liquors intoxicate; and this applies specially in favor of a wife, child, parent, guardian, employer or person dependent for support, the liquor seller being responsible even for exemplary damages.

But the most interesting feature is the mode it proposes for dealing with drunkards and intemperate men. Enumerating a list of such failings, and winding up with "and refuses or is unable to restrain his appetite und his passions," the man of whom all these peculiarities are descriptive shall be adjudged insane and confined in a lunatic asylum. If, however, the other provisions are enforced and the custom of tippling in barroom as an interchange of social courtesies can be broken up, the lunatic asylums will not be overcrowded.

We wish we had as much confidence in the prospects for the passage of this bill as we have in the substantial justice of its main features. Washington City does not seem to us a promising ground for high moral reforms. And yet we know no place where an earnest and vigorous temperance movement is more sadly needed or would be more beneficently crowned. Let us at least see how many congressmen are willing to give their votes to help begin it.—Tribune.

A FATHER RECLAIMED.

I was once asked by Mr. Grant to call on two young ladies who desired to see me. I went to the house, was was shown into a room, and received by a young lady who motioned me to a seat. As I sat there for a moment, waiting for her to speek, I gave a glance round the room. There were evidences of better days "lang syne," though I shivered, for there was no fire in the grate and the weather was cold, when the young lady said: "Mr. Gough, my sister intended to meet you with me; but she has sprained her ankle, and is unable to see you. My mother has been confined to her room for several weeks, and to her bed some days. Oh, sir, it is hard for a daughter to speak of a father's intemperance; but what can I do? I have sent for you as a last resort. My father is good and kind, when free from drink; but when under its influences, is cruel—he actually robs us of the common necessaries of life—and I would not ask you to sit in a cold room, had we materials for a fire." I voluntarily glanced at a piano forte that stood in the corner of the room. She noticed it, and said very quickly, "You may think that pride and poverty go together; and they do. You wonder why I do not sell my piano forte. I can not sell it. My father bought it for me on my birthday, years ago. It is like an old friend. I learned to play on it. Mother loves to hear the tunes that remind us of days gone by—I fear forever. My father has asked me to sell it; and suppose I did? It would but procure him the means of intoxication for a time, and we should be little better for the sale. I can not sell it. I will not part from my piano, unless my father takes it away by force."

I left them. Mr. Grant sent them provisions and wood. In a day or two I called again. The father was there. After a short conversation, he said to my surprise: "Mr. Gough, have you a pledge with you?" "I have." "I will sign it." I immediately produced it; he at once wrote his name, and stood up a pledged man, no more to drink intoxicating liquor. I watched the young girl when he said, 'I will sign it.' She clasped her hands; with lips apart, her eager eyes watched the pen. She seemed breathlessly anxious, till the name was recorded; then she sprang to him, twined her arms, as well as she could, around his neck (she was a little creature.) How she clung to his breast! Then unclasping her hands, she said: "Oh, father, I am proud of you. Mr. Gough he has signed it; and he'll never break it. No, no, my father will live a sober man. O father! father!" The tears were raining down her cheeks, as he passed his hand caressingly over her face, when she said: "Father you spoke of selling the piano forte. We can send for Leonard, and he will sell it to-morrow, and what it brings will pay what we owe, and we shall have something to start with again, shan't we father?" Yes, the poor heart was comforted, and she would give her piano—her old friend—cheerfully. Why? Because her father would live a sober man. Oh, you who sneer at temperance and mock at our pledge, come and look at a scene like this! And, thank God, there have been, and will be, many like it.

There is not a man who has labored in the field of reform, but can give you such incidents by the score—mothers, sisters, wives, daughters, lifted from despair to hope, from anguish to joy. A lady told me her father had been a drunkard for years; had broken his wife's heart; she was the only one left of the family that seemed to care for him; watching him, nursing him, even going to the grogshop to take him home! Think of it. A young daughter leading home a drunken father! She induced him to attend a lecture I gave in Philadelphia, in which I described the sorrow of the drunkard's children. He sat there, his hands convulsively twitching, then turning to her, said in a choked voice: "Birdie, dear, did you ever suffer like that with me?" All she could say was, "Oh father! dear father?" "Birdie, I'll sign the pledge; I will!" "O father! dear father!" At the close of the lecture, he came up and signed it. "And," said the lady; "from that day he never touched it. He lived but six years after, and died a sober man." Thank God for these green spots, these bright gleams of sunshine amid the gloom. I love to call them to mind; they rest me when weary, comfort me in trouble, and have many, many times encouraged me when I have been despondent.—John. B. Gough.

NASBY.

Harp uv Erin S'loon,
6th Ward, Noo York, Apr. 2, '70.

The Noo York World, in a recent ishoo, remarkt that the nigger vote must cum to us, becos the Dimocrisy hed allus hed success in managin the ignorant and degraded classes. This determined us to set about securin the vote uv the nigger populashun, in our ward immejitly. Father Mc Grath insisted that it be done to wunst becos the minit they become democrats the way wuz paved for ther comin under the spiritool direction of the Democrat church; Timmy McGee insisted that it shood be done becos the element, ef opposed to us, mite becum dangerous; Timmy O'Ryan, becos we hed either to incorporate em into our ranks or kill em, and he didn't believe it wood pay to raise a other riot just now; and I wanted em attached to our party becos I wanted em in front uv my bar reglerly.

We decided that the shoorest way to git em wood be to get one nigger interested with us, who would serve as a decoy duck to bring the others. We wanted a nigger to associate with, to embrace and sich; to show others that we cood and wood affiyate with em. We hed a terrible time a gittin uv it started, however. We got one of that race into my back room, and attempted to argoo the questions uv the hour with him, confident in our ability to crush him by facts into submishen to our doctrines, but the miserabel devil pulled out ov his pocket a copy ov the constitooshun and asked Teddy the Litter to read and construe a sentence therein, which finished that pertickler effort. Pasty O'Rouke and Micky Doolan who hed him in hand, startid back at the site ov that book ez tho they hed been shot. The cuss cood read, what cood eny uv em do with sich a man?

We caught a sick nigger and had him in tow three days. We nussed him and fed him, and hed a doctor for him, which doctor gave him medicine and democrisy in ekal doses, all uv which he seemingly gulped down with ease. We got on the skore of gratitude and he went away, promisin that he wood jine us, but the second day he came back and laid down on the bar 20 dollars with the remark that the sum wood pay for all the cost and trouble he hed been to us on his account.

'Wat doo you mene sed I stearnly, sweepin the muny into the drawer, to make sure on that.

Bustin into a paroxism uv teers, he remarkt that ez low and mean a nigger as he wus, he coodent reely jine us. It wus unfair in us he sed to take advantage uv his illness to put him under obligashuns to us.

'I can't be a dimocrat,' he sobbed, claspin his hands piteously. 'I can't reely. I hev a gray haired mother livin, and a younger sister! I cant! For I'm spectably connected!

And he rushed out. It was forchunit for him that I wus alone at the time.

All our efforts to sekoor a Ethiopian to our standard seemed to come to naught, and we wus on the confines uv despair, when one mornin Johnny O'Shoughessy came rushing in exclaiming, 'I've got it—I've got it!'

'Got what?' I askt.

'The nigger we want. In the Polece Court there's a nigger up for drunkenness, vagrancy, steelin, and batterin and some other thing, and ez he hezent a blasted cent, uv course he'll be sent up in short metre. We kin git him shoor, if we go about it quickly. I got the judge to hold on a bit till I cood see you.'

To wunst I seed a lite. Rushing frantically down to the court room, I gave myself bail for his appearance, which the judge, who is a politikel friend ov mine acceptid, without question; and seezin the nigger by the collar, I husteld him off to my place in triumph. Tim Doolen spoke up.

'Will yoo,' sez Tim, 'ef we git yoor discharge promise to allus vote the dim—

'Hold!' sez I quickly, for I wuz afeered Tim's thoughtless precipitancy mite rooin all, 'He aint in condition to hev that question put to him. Wait a minit; I understand what's required to make a convert better than you do.'

And seezin a bottle from behind the bar I put it to his lips. The nigger drank with an eagerness which gave me hope. Teddy spoke up agin—

'Will you promise to allus vote—'

'Hold!' I sed. 'He ain't enough.—Drink!'

And the nigger emptied the bottle.

'Now,' sez I, 'are you willin to promise to allus vote the dimocrat tikit—to labor with your colored brethren to bring em into the fold ov the dimocrisy and to do yonr level best to promote the interests ov the democratic party now and forever?'

The nigger, by this time crazy drunk (the likker wuz from my own private bottle and unwatered) swore that he would promise all this.

'Gib me some more dat whisky,' he shrieked.

I gave him another bottle and in fifteen minits he wuz sleepin the sleep which the tite man only knows.

In about fore hours he woke, and I tho't it time to approach him on the main question.

'Ceeze,' I remarkt, 'you must commence your work to nite. We shel git up a meetin of colored men at this place for the purpose uv organizin a Colored Democratic Club, and you must address em.'

'Must I endoose em to jine a dimocrat club?' he askt.

'Certinly.'

'Did I promise to do it?'

'Certinly,' I replied, and my buck yoo'd better keep that promise, or I'll hev you back in the dock at the police court in a jiffy.

'I'll do it,' sed he, with the derperit air ov one who hed determined that life ain't worth livin for, and is prepared ep for anything, 'but I must hev likker enuff to drown my con—— which is to say to give me nerve.'

'Certainly,' I replied, 'all the likker yoo want, but speek you must.'

The nite cum and there wuz a decent show of niggers in the back room. But the speaker! alas! he wus too far gone to speek and I hed to dismiss em.

The next morning he swore he never wood do it, and to get him to the pint of consentin I give him more likker, and he got drunk again, and so on it went all the week. The fix we wuz in wuz sumthing like this:

1. We coodent approach a nigger who hed any standin and influcence.

2. When we capcle ed sich a one he woodent hev enything to do with us when he wuz sober, and to hold him we hed to keep him drunk.

3. When drunk enough to stav with us he wuz too drunk to do what we wanted.

After squanderin on this poor wretch at least half a barrel uv es good likker az ever soothed my shrinking sole, I wuz compelled to hev him re-arrested and sent up for one year. I coodent stand no such drain on my finances, nor cood I bare to see so much likker wasted on a nigger.

The cuss took his sentence joyfully.

'It's hard,' he sed, 'but it's better than wat you proposed.'

This nigger question is the problem ov the age. How it will be solved puzzles me. May heaven send us wisdom.

SOME OF HIS SMALL TALK FOR GENERAL READING.

I don't know az i think it iz a very difficult thing tew be a good injun up in heaven, but tew come down here and be a good injun, is just where the tight spot cums in.

What a lamentable cuss man iz, he pitye his nabors misfortunes, by calling them judgments from heaven.

Wize men go thru this world az boys go to bed in the dark, whistling tew shorten the distance.

"The gods help them who help themselves." Upon the same principle mankind praze those who praze themselves.

Falling in love is like falling into molassiss, sweet but dreadful dobby.

Good breeding is the art ov avoiding familiarity, and at the same time making the company pleased with you and satisfied with themselfs.

Tew be happy—take things az they cum, and let them go as they cum.

It takes a grate deal of money tew make a man rich but it don't take but little virtew.

It iz the little things ov this life that plauge us. Muskeeters are plenty, elephants skarse.

What an agreeable world this would be to live in if we could pump all the pride and selfishnes out ov it! It would improve it az much az taking the fire and brimstone out ov the other world

Don't mistake plesure for happiness; it iz entirely a different breed of dogs. There iz a grate deal ov exquisit pleasure in happiness, but there iz a grate deal ov pleasure that has no happiness in it.

There iz only one thing that i kan think ov now that i like to see idleness in, and that iz in molassiss—i want my molassiss slow and easy.

Experience has the same effect on most folks that age has on a goose; it makes them tuffer.

"Sewing Societies" are generally places whare the wimin meet to rip and so—up the naborhood.

It takes a smart man to conceal from others what he don't know.

A lazy man alwuz works harder than a bizzy man—the hardest work i know ov iz to grunt—it iz harder to set still and fight flies than it iz to git up and escape from them.

The man who controls his pashuns sits at the helm ov his ship.

I don't want enny better evidence that a man is a fool than tew see him cultivate excentricities.

The man who can conceal his real karakter when he iz drunk, or in a pashun, has got a giant karakter.

I hav found out that happiness konsists in working bizzy twelve hours, sleeping eight hours, and playing checkers four hours out ov the twenty-four.

'Experience is a good schoolmaster,' but reason iz a better one.

Pedantry iz hypocrasy, without enny malice in it.

Ah the good men in this world hav got the same kind of religion, it iz only the ded heats, frauds and hypokrits, whose religion differs.

There iz 2 kinds ov faith, faith ov the brains, iz nothing more than shrewdness—and faith ov heart, this iz humility, haff sister tew virtew.

You will notice one thing, all good talkers are good listeners.

If i had the privilege ov making the eleventh commandment, it would be this—owe no man.

Young ones and dogs!—those who are the least able to support them, generally have the most ov them.

Sum folks, az they gro older, get wizer; but most folks simply gro stubborner.

People travel to learn; most of the (before they start) should learn to travel.

I don't believe in fighting, i am solemnly against it; but if a man get tew fighting, i am also solemn against his getting licked. After a fight iz once opened, all the virtew there iz in it iz to lick the other party.

Slander iz like the tin kittle tied to a dog's tail—a very good kind ov kittle, so long as it isn't our dorg's tail.

BETTER LATE THAN NEVER.

Life is a race where some succeed,
While others are beginning—
'Tis luck in some, in others speed,
That gives an early winning;
But if you chance to fall behind,
Ne'er slacken your endeavor;
Just keep this wholesome truth in mind—
"'Tis better late than never."

And if you keep ahead 'tis well,
But never trip your neighbor;
'Tis noble when you can excel
By honest, faithful labor.
But if you are outstripped at last,
Press on as bold as ever,
Remember, though you are surpassed,
"'Tis better late than never."

Ne'er labor for an idle boast
Or victory o'er another;
But while you strive for uppermost,
Deal fairly with a brother;
What'er your station, do your best,
And hold your purpose ever;
And if you fail to find the rest,
"'Tis better late than never!"

Choose well the path in which you run—
Succeed by noble lasting;
Then, though the last, when once 'tis won,
Your crown is worth the wearing;
Then do not fret if left behind,
Nor slacken your endeavor,
But ever keep this truth in mind—
"'Tis better late than never!"

A HAPPY BOY.—'I say, boy, why do you whistle so gaily?'

'Because I'm so happy, mister.'

'What makes you so happy?'

''Cause I've got on a new shirt; look a-here; ain't it nice?'

'It don't look very new. What is it made of?'

'Why, 'tis new, 'cause mam made it yesterday out of dad's old 'un!'

'And what was dad's old 'un made of?'

'Why, one of granny's old sheets, what her mam give her.'

A very pretty and simple arrangement, by which gold fishes and canary birds are made to be joint occupants of a huge vase of water, is getting to be a popular part of household ornamentation. It is very simple: The bottom of the vase is concave-convex; the apex rising about fifteen inches above the base of the circumference. This dome forms the superstructure of the bird cage, and the bottom, supplied with drawers and properly ventilated, serves as a pedestal for the vase.

HOME MADE INK.—The ink is a beautiful black, flows freely, and does not in the least corrode the pen. It is far superior to the usual acid inks, which will spoil the best steel pen in a few hour's use. In fact we have no ink that we like so well as this. It is made thus: To five gallons of water at a boiling heat add one half pound logwood, one half ounce bicarbonate of potasa, and one half ounce prussiate of potash. Your ink is then made and ready for use. The cost is six cents per gallon.

Henry Ward Beecher, spoke on a recent Sunday morning on the night scenes in New York and Brooklyn. He condemned midnight labor, late parties, Saratoga excursions, and after dark walks of young men and maidens. He made a point that good, broad streets, well laid out, kept clean and lighted, will have more moral influences than all churches and all preaching put together.

A national convention of photographers is to be held at one of the rinks in Cleveland next month. The Plain Dealer says the most distinguished photographers of this country, as well as many from abroad, will be present; bringing with them specimens of their art, which, combined, will make a collection worth going far to see.

Josh Billings says bachelors are always bragging over their freedom!—freedom to darn their own stockings, and poultis their own shins! I had rather be a widower once in two years, regular, than to be a gruntin, old hair-dye bachelor only ninety days.

A little Philadelphia girl has died from accidentally swallowing a toy balloon. We are now ready to hear of one choking on a cook stove.

A Wisconsin farmer sues for a divorce on the ground that his wife can't chop the amount of wood that she boasted about previous to marriage.

A female lecturer said: "Get married, young men, and be quick about it. Don't wait for the millennium for the girls to become angels. You'd look well beside an angel, wouldn't you, you brutes!"

'Well, my little gentleman, and how would you like your hair cut?' 'Oh, like papa's please—with a little round hole at the top.'

The latest fashionable agony is for ladies to scramble their hair. An exchange hopes that they will, at least keep the scrambled hair separate from the scrambled eggs.

Massillon, Wednesday, June 1.

NOT AS IT WAS.—During our late war it will be remembered that in certain portions of Canada the rebels were permitted to mature plans of offense against our government; and if we are not mistaken it was in that part of the British dominions where the infamous Blackburn was allowed to take means for infecting the people of our country with small pox, by smuggling it into our ports in clothing which was to be put into market. Then there was the Alabama and other piratical vessels built and manned by British seamen, under the command of Semmes and others, roaming the ocean as robbers and murderers, destroying scores of merchant vessels, millions of property, and murdering vast numbers of unarmed men. But how is it now? The enthusiastic Fenian, feeling that his native Ireland is wronged and outraged by this same British government, in attempting to avenge her wrongs, is forbidden by our president, whose province it is to carry out the neutrality laws. He is arrested and in default of bail, is hurried off to prison for obeying the warmest impulses of his heart. We do not blame our president and his officers for performing their disagreeable duties, for they are pledged and sworn to keep armed men from going over our borders to meddle with the peaceful people of a neighboring nation. This is just what the British government did not do in parallel cases when trouble reigned in our states, but openly permitted rebels, who if acting against their government they would have shot like dogs, to prepare to go to war against us while on their soil, and make no effort to restrain them. The nations and peoples of other lands will have no difficulty in seeing who lives up to the law in such cases as above indicated.

The late Fenian movements on the border of Canada adjoining Vermont has been a source of sensation for the past week. To all the rest of the world the case was a plain one, that the ardent but misguided measures of those men could result in nothing but inglorious defeat, and the demonstration of last Thursday seems to have established this conclusion. There seems to be no adaptation of means to ends in this movement. It is not so that one enthusiastic Irishman can chase a thousand red coats, or two of them put ten thousand of these Britishers to flight. Of course every friend of liberty sympathises with the injustice suffered by the Irish people at the hands of an oppressive government, and would heartily rejoice to see them freed from such bondage, and take their place among the nations of the earth; but such abortive efforts as these Fenian raids, in that direction, although they point in the right direction, are entirely impotent to achieve the ardent desire so long cherished by these people. But certain it is that a day is coming when Ireland will be free, and her warm hearted people will be the political peers of those of any other nation under the sun. The schoolmaster will do more for citizens of the Green Isle than all such misguided zeal as late years have witnessed in the shape of Fenianism. Their prejudices, superstitions and ignorance must be removed; and the mass of the people once having attained intellectual power no tyranny under the sun can keep them down.

The white man's government party are changing their base. One of the latest demonstrations in that line is, that the democrats of the 18th district, in and about Cleveland have nominated a Mr. Ambush, a black barber of that place, as candidate for congress, and he has accepted the position. The Plaindealer, the only daily paper of that stripe of politics in northern Ohio, is said to have published a letter signed by some 700 of the true and faithful asking this barber man to be their candidate for congress. The scriptures tell us that the Ethiopian cannot change his skin nor the leopard his spots, but the democracy can change itself so as to hide its professions by using the hide of a colored man, and thus play white man's government by using the African's epidermes. Now the democracy, if they can succeed in this new game may be able to stand it, but we question whether our colored people will submit to it with their accustomed patience. There was a time when this same democracy used negro hides in another way, that was by applying raw hides to them most liberally, but as so many of these negroes have been bleached nearly white by the well known dimocratic process, it may be possible that they may think they have got them up to the standard color, at least so far along as to try to make a congressman out of one of them. We hope they may persevere in this direction—it is a radical progress.

In enacting a law to enforce the fifteenth amendment, congress has put in a stringent provision against illegal voting, which if carried out will crush the notorious fraudulent voting in the city of New York.

For the present the Fenian war seems to be about over.

On last Monday, we are informed that trains commenced running twice a day on the new railroad, but at this writing we have not the times of arrival and departure of any but the one noted elsewhere.

A number of our principal groceries have been familiarising us to the sight of strawberries, cucumbers, and other seasonable vegetables in more or less abundance. Peas are also in the market, and to go to either of our first-class hotels, the Zielley House or the American the guest will find tables loaded with the luxuries of the season, not even excepting the bland ice cream, a most tempting dessert, and other enticing accompaniments.

Messrs. Doxsee & Rhein, as may be seen by their card elsewhere, are actively engaged in the coal trade, and are prepared to supply customers with any quantity of this indispensable article, of the various grades for family use.

It is said that some of our amateuer musicians, who are regarded as pretty good on certain instruments, and have had considerable experience, after hearing the Mendelssohn concert felt considerably demoralized, and almost ready to lay down the fiddle and the bow in despair. They need not be in a hurry, for surely they can beat somebody else almost as bad.

The cry of fire was raised on last Thursday morning, the fire bell rang, firemen and citizens turned out, all making their way toward the Zielley House, the roof of which was being scorched a little by burning soot The fire was promptly suppressed by a few pailfulls of water, and scarce any appreciable damage done. Among others our friend Pratt was at the head of the fire brigade, and by his energy was successful, with the efficient aid of others, in stopping a conflagration which would have been very destructive.

Messrs. Walser & Grimmasy are getting under full headway with their work, as the building is now sufficiently finished to carry on the various branches requisite for their business. Already have they finished several jobs, and are turning out others, while orders are coming in from various quarters. Our community is highly favored in having an establishment under the control of such competent men in this branch of industry, and we are confident that the more their work becomes known the more will it be appreciated.

The rain and thunderstorm which visited this part of the country on the 28th ult., appears to have been quite extensive, for many other places had it much harder than it was here. On that day several persons were killed by lightning in adjoining counties, and property destroyed by the same agency But little complaint is made of hail. Immediately afterward the weather cooled down considerably, but no damage resulted from that cause.

MEETING OF THE REPUBLICAN CENTRAL COMMITTEE.

Pursuant to notice, the republican central committee of Stark county met at the office of the chairman in Canton, on Saturday, May 21st, 1870.

W. W. McClun, of Marlboro, was chosen secretary, and upon motion of Mr. Blitzer, of Plain, the time for holding the Union Primary Meetings was fixed for Saturday, August 13th, between the hours of 9 a. m. and 7 p. m., the rules for governing said election to be the same as those adopted by the central committee of last year.

Additional precincts were granted at Cassler's School House, in Lake tp., and at Heldenbrand's School House, in Jackson tp.

On motion of Mr. Johnson, of Lexington, it was decided that candidates for only such offices as are to be filled next fall should be voted for at the primary election this year, and in consequence of a late change in the law, no candidate for county auditor will be nominated until 1871.

The chairman was authorized to issue a call for a county convention, to choose delegates to the state convention. Said meeting is to be held at Canton, on Saturday, August 6th.

Committee adjourned.

W. MCKINLEY, JR., Chn.
W. W. MCCLUNN, Secy.

A strawberry festival will take place at the Zielley House on Friday evening. Everybody is invited, as it is the first of the season.

The Union Spy was again presented on Tuesday night to a fair sized audience in the Opera House. All seemed pleased with the performances, and the effrot is regarded as a success.

The Great Medical Discovery!

Dr. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS.

More than 500,000 persons bear testimony to their curative effects.

For Female Complaints, whether in old or young, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or the turn of life, these tonic bitters have no equal. Send for a circular.

What are They?

They are a gentle purgative as well as a tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving congestion or inflamation of the liver, and all the Visceral Organs.

THEY ARE NOT A

VILE FANCY DRINK,

Made of poor rum, whisky, proof spirits, and refuse liquor, doctored, spiced, and sweetened to please the taste, called tonics, appetizers, restorers, &c., that lead the tipler on to drunkeness and ruin, but are a true medicine, made from the native roots and herbs of California, free from all alcoholic stimulants.

They are the great blood purifier and life giving principle, a perfect renovater and invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter, and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell.

$100 will be given for an incurable case, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poisons or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For inflamatory and chronic rheumatism, and gout, dpspepsia, or indigestion, bilious, remittent, and intermittent fevers, disease of the blood, liver, kidneys and bladder, these bitters have been most successful. Such diseases are caused by vitiated blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the digestive organs.

Cleanse and vitiate blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in pimples, eruptions or sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when you find it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure and the health of the system will follow.

Pin, tape, and other worms, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed.

In bilious, remittent and intermittent fevers, these bitters have no equal For full directions read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

We, the Druggists of Massillon, call the attention of our customers to the letters published below of the wonderful efficacy of Dr Roback's Stomach Bitters, Dr. Roback's Scandinavian Blood Purifier, and Dr. Roback's Scandinavian Blood Pills. We have been selling these medicines long enough to know that they are all they are recommended to be, and that the certificates of cures published are true.

The following, from one of the most worthy citizens of Athens County, Ohio.

We take pleasure in publishing such certificates, as we know it to be genuine.

EDITOR.

ATHENS, ATHENS Co., O., August 10, 1859.

DR. C. W. ROBACK,

Dear Sir:—Permit me to say in relation to your Scandinavian Blood Pills and Blood Purifier, that I have used several boxes and bottles, and have found their effects on my system to be all that is claimed for them in your advertisements. I have also seen the effects of your Pills upon a child four or five years old, in expelling worms from the bowels.—One dose given the child, confined to the bed, and apparently very sick, caused the worms to come away from it in great numbers, and they were found crawling and scattered all about. The child thus relieved recovered immediately, and is now well and hearty.

Yours, &c.

JOSEPH HERROLD.

DECORATION DAY, MAY 30, 1870

Is a time which will be long remembered by the people of Massillon and vicinity. At an early hour an unusual number of people were on the streets, for the weather was most favorable to participate in out door enjoyments. Of course the G. A. R. Post of this place took a leading part in the proceedings, and the invitation extended by them to other benevolent and charitable associations of this city, were kindly responded to on the part of several of them. At the hour appointed (1 o'clock) for forming the procession all the business places of the city were closed, and the different associations met in the public square, where under direction of the marshal of the day, Mr. Huber, they were organized, and proceeded to march to the cemetery. Members of the G. A. R. order, preceded by one of the bands, led the procession, who were followed by members of the city council, a large number of Odd Fellows, in regalia, with banners; then a large number of members of St. Joseph's Benevolent Society, with regalia and a most beautiful banner; then the fire companies in uniform, with banners, and a portion of the lodge of Good Templars. Following these was a large number of carriages all filled with people, besides many hundreds of citizens on foot. Altogether the procession was a grand one, and did great credit to all who participated.

Arriving at the cemetery the soldier boys proceeded to perform the honors of the day by marching to the grave of each of their deceased comrades and strewing flowers, evergreens and wreaths thereon, Mr. J. S Cross announcing the name of each, and the regiment and company to which he belonged. This ceremony is beautiful for its simplicity, and impressiveness; the emblems of innocence and purity, the flowers, enhance the appropriateness of the entire observance So many thousands of people were in the cemetery that it was impossible for but a small portion to march to each resting place of the dead, and as that duty was a special one for the soldiers, members of other orders marched through the grounds without regard to any special order. The Odd Fellows having a resting place there for their members, they marched in a body to it, and surrounded the enclosure were very briefly and appropriately addressed by Mr. Fahs of this place, and Mr. Rafflersperger, of Navarre.

The ceremony of bestrewing the graves with flowers having been performed, the procession was re-formed and marched to the city, and was drawn up in order near the American House. It was hoped that Rev. Wm. Lynch, of Salem, would be here and address the vast concourse of people, but from some cause he did not arrive, and for this reason the officers of the day and others called upon Mr. Folger for an impromptu speech. He responded briefly and appropriately, and all seemed gratified with his unprepared effort.

Some two or three bands furnished music for the day, and thus added pleasure and interest to the entire proceedings.

In the evening the G. A R's, assisted by a large number of ladies, presented the Union Spy once more, in the Opera House, and such a vast multitude of people were anxious to witness the entertainment that hundreds were fortunate in securing standing room, while other hundreds had to be turned away, as it was impossible to admit them. This demonstration is very convincing one that the boys have a vast number of friends in our community.

The best of order prevailed during the day, nothing occurring to mar its observance, but but everything harmonizing to enhance the pleasures it afforded. In conclusion we add that the day was ushered in by the booming of cannon, which was repeated at noon.

Last Saturday was observed by the people of Canton as decoration day, and we understand that the occasion was participated in by a large number of people. Other towns according to what the papers say, also observed the same day for this purpose.

On Sunday a considerable number of our G. A. R. friends went to Fulton, which was the time designated there for paying the annual memorial tribute to the memory of departed soldiers.

Eminent Women of the Age, published by Betts & Co., of Hartford, Conn., is a most valuable contribution to the biographical literature of the day. In a finely printed book of more than 600 pages, illustrated with numerous portraits, the reader will find graphic accounts of a large number of distinguished women of our own times—conspicuous as successful orators, preachers, physicians, artists, and in other walks of life. The classes of persons there pointed out, who have forced a hesitating world to acknowledge their success against obstacles of more than ordinary magnitude, ought to prove to the most conservative fogy that such people are quite as competent to be voters as are a very large class of the other sex. A poor fellow that can't read his name is a voter, while a woman, although she may by the power of her oratory change the political character of whole states, as Miss Anna E. Dickinson has done, has not the poor privilege of saying by her vote who shall be constable.

Mr. Folger has held the office with but a slight interregnum for sixteen years. Mr. F. has been qualified and forwarded his acceptance of the appointment so Gov. Hoffman.

Mendelssohn Quintette Club.—Massillon people have often been favored with visits and music by some of the best of traveling artists, but in the estimation of the large audience which was favored with the choice entertainment on last Wednesday evening, our citizens were never more gratified than on that occasion in listening to the performances of the above named club. An audience if not interested is very liable to become restive and uneasy, which is manifested in various ways, resulting in more or less disorder, but this time—although the music was mostly instrumental, and thus less liable to be appreciated by the majority present—there was a charm in the sounds of these viols, which commanded good order during the evening, and this we regard as the best certificate of the success of the performers. When the lady appeared and enraptured the listeners with her delighting melodies the interest was hightened, and every effort she she made met with earnest demonstrations of applause, the loudest from the most appreciative listeners. So well pleased was our people with this band of musicians that future visits by them would be welcomed by increasing numbers, and we believe that they were as well pleased to be here under such agreeable circumstances.

On next Saturday the friends of temperance are invited to meet at 10 o'clock in the vicinity of Lawrence, on Mr. Maurer's farm, for the purpose of enjoying the day in listening to addresses on that subject. The people will meet at No. 4 schoolhouse, and march from that to an adjoining grove near the residence of Mr. G. Chapman, where in addition to the speaking they will have a good, social pic nic, and thus most agreeably spend the day. Rev. Mr. Matlack and Geo. Brauneck, Esq., of Wooster; Rev. E. Hingeley, of Massilion will address those present on the great temperance question. G. W. Baldwin, Esq. of Canton, and E. N. Johnson, of Alliance, are also invited to be present. In addition to the speaking and social character of the meeting Prof. Ickes and choir will be present and favor the gathering with choice music. If the day is a pleasant one it is anticipated that a large attendance will be had as the people of Lawrence, Fulton and that vicinity are in earnest.

Some years since a poor but talented member of the medical profession conceived the idea that he could produce medicine of universal application and extraordinary merits, and make it known, he could not only enrich himself and escape the drudgery of a physician's life, and also benefit the sick in a greater measure than by his private practice. He therefore consulted with the best physicians he could find, and the result was the production of the celebrated Beltzhoover Bitters, a famous and most successful medicinds which has been made known through the aid of printer's ink, to thousands who have been benefitted. The Home of Old Missionary Division o Sons of Temperance, of this place, after a faithful adherence to duty by some of its members for nearly thirteen years, has about ceased holding regular meetings—at least for a few weeks. While in active operation its faithful membership sought to perform their duty by remembering the solemn obligations they assumed, and their influence was not without good io some of our citizens. Men who once were misled by the tempter have lived sober, exemplary, industrious lives ever since their connection with the order, and are now safely established on the rock of sobriety for life. Should the Division go out of existence permanantly there is this consolation—a faithful few did their duty to the last; and if like thousands of soldiers who died that our country might live, this organization falls, as do all things mortal, its memory will be blessed with many pleasant recollections, among which not the least is that it performed its duty as faithfully as its membership could under the circumstances.

BURGLARY AND ROBBERY.—On Sunday the house of Mr. Temmery, who lives near Richville, was entered and about $600 in money taken therefrom, beside a considerable amount of other property. On the same night and in the same neighborhood, another house was entered and a large quantity of valuable clothing stolen. Some weeks ago a similar outrage to the latter was committed not far from where these occurred, where clothing and other valuable property was stolen. It is a possible thing that some of these depradators may be favored with a dose of leaden peas if they keep up this sort of work.

Just now is the busy season at both the large establishments engaged in the manufacture of agricultural implements in getting out their work. Russell & Co., as may be seen by their advertisement elsewhere, are actively in the field, and are ready to meet a large demand on their resources for mowers and reapers. Their reputation is not limited to our hemisphere—their works are favorably known everywhere, and it requires a large force of workmen to fill the orders they have, and are continually receiving.

HUNTINGTON, Ind., Jan. 8, 1870.
Russell & Co., Massillon, O.

GENTLEMEN—In reply to your inquiry about the Combined Reaping and Mowing Machine bought of your Fort Wayne agent, I will say that I am well pleased with it. I have used the "Buckeye" for several years, and have seen all the machines used in this county, and would not exchange the Russell for any other machine in this locality. It is a good mower, light draught, turns easy, is strong and durable, and is the best reaper especially in down and lodged grain, that I have ever seen. I can cheerfully recommend it to others.

GENTLEMEN—I take pleasure in saying that the Combined Reaping and Mowing Machine, that I bought of your agent at Fort Wayne, is without exception the best machine I ever saw. It mows well, is easy to handle, and as a reaper it can't be beat, especially in down grain. I cut wheat that could not be cut by other machines and took it up clean.

Your's FRANCIS GIBSON.

FORT WAYNE, Ind., Jan. 1870.
Russell & Co., Massillon, O.

I have had and used one of your combined Reaping and Mowing Machines for two years; have used others, but would not exchange for any other machine in use, as it runs light, has no side draught, no weight on the horses' necks, no backing to do on the corners, turns easily and finally, does its work better than any other I have seen.

Yours, JULIUS ALEXANDER.

MARCALIN, Ill., March 1, 1870.

This is to certify, that I bought last summer of I. M. Smith & Co., at Quincy, Ill., one of Russell & Co's., Reaper and Mowers, and will here state, it gave me perfect satisfaction in every particular, both in reaping and mowing. Yours,

Russell & Co., Massillon, O:

Gentlemen—You want to know how I like my Russell Threshing Machine, bought of your agent at Ft Wayne, in the season of 1869. I think with the late improvements it has no equal, with the double fan, adjustable concave, and extra shaker it is complete I have threshed for 21 years, but never seen a machine that could compete with the Improved Russell's for fast threshing, perfect cleaning, and saving of grain, and after that experience I don't expect to.

Yours truly, OLIVER DAVIS.

H. Ruble, North McGregor, Iowa:

Dear Sir—Having purchased (with Mr. J. Philbrick) last fall, of your agents at St Paul, Messrs. Brownell & Co., one of your No 2½ Improved Massillon Threshers, I will say it gives perfect satisfaction both as a thresher and cleaner. In short, I consider it the best thresher I ever used, or saw used. The adjustable concave, revolving shoe rake and fan, are practical and valuable improvements. I would fully recommend it to all who desire to purchase a very superior machine.

Gents—I have run threshing machines of different style and manufacture for over seventeen years. Last fall I bought of your agent at Jackson, Mich., one of your Improved No. 2½ Threshers and Separators, and am highly pleased with it, so much so that I am willing to bet all I am worth, that it will do more and better work than any other machine manufactured.

I have worked with my brother all fall, am an old thresher, and must say, his machine is superior to any machine I have ever seen or used. M. COOLY.

THE TRUE

THEORY OF PURGATION

APPLIED TO THE

Liver, Kidneys, Skin,
STOMACH & BOWELS.

DR. RADWAY'S
PERFECT
PURGATIVE PILLS,
Perfectly Tasteless,
ELEGANTLY COATED.

MATERIA MEDICA contains, in its repertoire many purgative and cathartic agents that, for ordinary purposes, clean the bowels, and through what is called a "peristaltic" movement, purge from the alimentary canal the feces and this is all. Such agents, for the purpose of cure, or removal of any settled disease, are utterly useless.

Dr. RADWAY has completed one of the most essential discoveries in medical chemistry—in the combination of vegetable substances, for the purposes of a PURGATIVE, APERIENT, COUNTER-IRRITANT, ALTERATIVE PILL, that can be taken or administered with the absolute certainty of securing THOROUGH EXPULSION OF ALL DECAYED AND DECOMPOSING Elements of the human body, and also safe to take in the most malignant of Eruptive Fevers. In cases where the mucous membranes of the internal viscera are suffering from Ulceration, Inflammation, or from

Gastric, Bilary, Pancreatic Complaints,

DR. RADWAY'S PILLS
Supply the only Vegetable substitute for
CALOMEL OR MERCURY.

In RADWAY'S PILLS you have one medicine that will secure quicker, more thorough and better results than will be given in from three or more different prescriptions of the medical practitioner. As a proof of this —You are seized with a Bilious attack! Doctor prescribes Blue Pills or Calomel; next, some Drastic Aloetic Pill or Powders to work off the effects of the Blue Pill; this prostrates you, and a tonic is next given, or a gentle aperient, whereas ONE DOSE OF RADWAY'S PILLS will do all the, work that the three or more prescriptions are given for, without running any risk from mercurializing or salivating the system.

RADWAY'S PILLS.

In RADWAY'S PILLS, the true principle of purgation is secured—not alone to the office of dismissing the feces and excrements from the bowels, but those humors that are checked or stopped in their passage through the Skin, Kidneys, Lungs, and all excreting and secreting functions; for if these excrementious secretions belonging to the skin, liver, lungs, kidneys, are interrupted in their escape, they become products of decay and decomposition, and must be, purged from the living body through these proper channels; hence the purgative qualities of RADWAY'S PILLS extend to the secretions of the SKIN, KIDNEYS, LIVER, &c., whereas not one of the advertised Pills claim to act beyond the bowels.

How to Take Radway's Pills.
THEIR DAILY USE.

In doses of one or two pills, by all persons of a full habit of body, subject to giddiness, rush of blood to the head, palpitation of the heart, and all those subject to fits, will not only keep the blood from becoming congested or clogged up in the blood vessels, but will equalize its circulation, and prevent sudden attacks of apoplexy, disease of the heart, congestion. Persons who will take one of those pills every day will not suffer from Headaches, Dizziness, Hysterics, Fainting Spells, Pains around the Heart, and a hundred other disagreeable symptoms.

DYSPEPSIA.

One of RADWAY'S PILLS, two or three hours before dinner, taken daily, will keep the system free from DYSPEPSIA, INDIGESTION, CONSTIPATION, COSTIVENESS, &c.

Bear in Mind,

RADWAY'S PILLS are the only purgative that will become an alterative, diuretic, sudorific, aperient and tonic influence.

They are the only vegetable substitutes for Calomel or Mercury.

Scrofula Cured by Brandreth's Pills.

Brandreth's pills penetrate the whole mass of blood, causing the expulsion of impurities. The body feels relieved from a single dose; what then may be expected from twenty from twenty? By continuing their use, the whole of the blood in time becomes purified, and the body reconstructed from good material, and a new lease of life secured.

Sing Sing, March 25, 1868.

My Dear Sir: My daughter Alice, thirteen years old, has been completely cured of that horrible disease, scrofula, which for years rendered life a torment; after all medicines and many physicians had been tried, and failed, I commenced giving her your pills. She took them almost every day constantly improving. She has now entirely recovered.

Yours truly, D. LUTHER.
HON. B. BRANDRETH.

Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye

Is the only one which has stood the test of chemical analysis. At the store of the proprietor, 6 Astor House, New York; may be seen the certificate of that able analytical chemist, testifying that it contains no harmful ingredient. On the other hand, in the Journal of Chemestry may be found the statement that there are upwards of thirty poisonous hair eyes before the public. Choose the only safe and sure one.

Cristadoro's Hair preservative, as a dressing, acts like a charm on the hair after dyeing: Try it.

B. A. FAHNESTOCK'S
VERMIFUGE.

It is now over forty years since this medicine was offered as a remedy for Worms, and from that time its reputation has steadily increased until at the present day it is almost universally acknowledged throughout nearly all parts of the world to be the most efficient remedy. Worm Confections, made more for the purpose of pleasing the palate than of overcoming the disease, have been manufactured all over the country, but their short lease of life is nearly exhausted, and B. A. Fahnestock's Vermifuge continues to grow in favor daily. Children often look pale and sickly from no other cause than worms, and epilepsy is most frequently the result of those hidden sappers and miners.

When they are irritable and lose sh, sometimes craving food and eating ravenously, again refusing wholesome diet, tossing restlessly in sleep, moaning and grinding the teeth, then be assured those symptoms are indications of worms.

Uneasiness and pain in the abdomen, with swelling and hardness, are generally attendant upon the presence of these hidden sappers and miners.

A gradual wasting away or emaciation of the flesh is one of the most common attendants upon worms. They absorb the animal juices, and destroy the nourishment imparted to the stomach by wholesome diet, thereby occasioning a variable appetite and a strong desire for indigestible food.

The stomach has, undoubtedly, a very great sympathy with other parts of the body. This is the case with respect to the irritation produced by worms, especially those existing in the stomach itself. They give rise to many other diseases, and patients often suffer incredibly without being aware of the cause.

Many a helpless child has been laid in the grave, when the disease which caused its death has been entirely misunderstood, and when worms have really been the cause. It has been proved beyond cavil that worms exist in the human system from earliest infancy, therefore parents—especially mothers, who are more constantly with their children, cannot be too observing of the first symptoms of worms, for as surely as they exist, can they be safely and speedily removed from the unsuspecting infant, by the timely use of B. A. Fahnestock's Vermifuge.

Physicians do not hesitate to recommend it and use it in their practice, and many of the most eminent of the profession, from all parts of the country, testify to its uniform success. In fact, it never fails. It has frequently been given to children as a safe purgative, not suspecting the cause of the illness, and large quantities of worms were discharged and the infant relieved.

Great caution must be used by every purchaser, to be a good judge in one sense, and to examine every bottle he buys of it. The simple name of Fahnestock is not sufficient. He must look closely and carefully to see that the initials are B. A Fahnestock, and be sealed with nothing else.

Shaking and Burning.

It is not necessary to journey from the tropics to Alaska in order to experience the extremes of heat and cold. Thousands undergo all the inconveniences of this thermometrical change every day or every other day, as the case may be, without the trouble of moving over the threshold. A word with these involuntary shakers. What are they doing to expediate their return to a medium temperature?—to break the chills and banish the fever? Are they dosing themselves with quinine, thereby imperilling the soundness of their bones and impairing the vigor of their brains and nervous system? Some of them are no doubt, but not the majority of them it is believed. The value of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters as a harmless and certain specific for fever and ague is understood and appreciated in all parts of the country where intermittents prevail. The residents of such localities begin to take it early in the spring as a protection against the miasma by which they are surrounded; not all of them, perhaps, for a blind adherence to error is the speciality with some people, but the greater number.

If there is any fixed fact in therapeutics, it is this: that the Bitters are a far better safeguard against all the varieties of periodic maladies produced by unwholesome exhalations than any drug or compound in the materia medica of the profession. This assertion is made with all due respect to the faculty, but being an important truth, and one that nearly concerns the health of large settlements in various parts of the country, and indeed of the public at large, is made fearlessly, founded on ample and unimpeachable testimony, it defies disproval.

To break up chills and fevers, as well as to prevent them, there is nothing so reliable as this wholesome vegetable restorative.

DYSPEPSIA.

THE
Medical Properties Possessed by
BELTZHOOVER'S
Dyspeptic Bitters

Are fully attested by the certificates of well known gentlemen who have tested their virtues. Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Ague, General debility, and similar diseases are totally eradicated from the system by their use, while as a blood purifier and appetizer, they are unapproachable.

Doctor S. Beltzhoover, the sole proprietor of these bitters, are manufacturing them extensively at their establishment, No. 77 Third avenue, Pittsburgh, and are prepared to fill all orders that may be sent to them.

At this season of the year the human system is generally in a debilitated condition and a tonic is necessary for the preservation of health. The Dyspeptic bitters are strongly recommended for their tonical virtues, and many persons are deriving great benefit from their use. These bitters are the best in the market, and are being generally adopted by our citizens.

THE RACE BETWEEN "HENRY" AND "ECLIPSE," 1823.

The racing career of American Eclipse had been one series of brilliant successes. He was a northern-bred horse, and as such was the rival of southern studs. The turfmen of Virginia, Maryland, and South Carolina regarded him with envy, and they sought to defeat, if not to disgrace him. In 1822, so great was his fame, and so feverish the racing pulse, that the gentlemen of the south made a bold effort to humble northern pride. Mr. James J. Harrison, of Brunswick, Virginia, challenged Mr. Van Ranst to run his horse American Eclipse against Sir Charles, over the Washington Course at Charleston, four-mile heats. The challenge was promptly accepted, each gentleman staking $5000 on his horse, and fixing the 20th day of November for the race. Sir Charles having met with an accident, Mr. Harrison was obliged to pay forfeit; but he offered to run his horse a single four-mile heat against Eclipse, for $1500 a side. This offer was accepted by Mr. Van Ranst; the horses were prepared for the race, and the northern champion achieved an easy victory, Sir Charles breaking down on the last mile.

The South felt humiliated; and in the evening of the same day that Napoleon of the turf, william R. Johnson, Esq., of Petersburg, Virginia, pledged himself to produce a horse, on the last Tuesday in May, 1823, to run four-mile heats against Eclipse over the Union Course, Long Island, for $20,000; $3000 forfeit. On the part of several gentlemen from the north this challenge was promptly accepted by Mr. John C Stephens. Such, in brief, are the facts which led to the most exciting race ever run on this continent.

Throughout the long winter nights the proposed match was the subject of earnest discussion and speculation; the north was pitted against the south, and the event aroused sectional prejudices and appealed to sectional pride. A battle between two great armies could not have excited deeper anxiety than this race between Henry and Eclipse. The 27th day of May, 1823, dawned in beauty, and by twelve o'clock it is estimated that not less than sixty thousand people had assembled at the Union Course. The southern party had brought five horses with them; and from this five, Henry, a son of Sir Archy, and out of a mare by the great Diomed, was selected as the competitor of Eclipse. John Richards, a four-year old, was Colonel Johnson's favorite, and Henry his second choice; but the former having fallen lame, the fortunes of the southern gentlemen were staked upon the latter. The race was run amidst the wildest enthusiasm —Henry winning the first heat by half a length. Mr. Purdy, an experienced jockey one who had piloted Eclipse to many victories, changed places with Crofts for the second heat; and when it was observed that Purdy was astride the son of Duroc, we are told that northern hope revived. Eclipse was a horse that required punishment to force him to his speed; though not so fleet of foot as Henry, he was a horse of great stoutness, and it was this stoutness which made him invincible in a four mile struggle. Purdy understood this fact full well; and when they received the word for the second heat he drove the chestnut forward, giving Henry no respite. The tactics were good and they won the second heat.

At this stage of the battle the excitement was most intense, for a heat had been placed to the credit of each chestnut. One more struggle, and the race would be over, and victory would perch either on the banner of the north or that of the south. A few fleeting minutes, and the pride of one section would be exalted, while the hopes of the other section would be blasted. Thousands trembled in the balance; and not thousands only, but the glory of victory or the shame of defeat. Arthur Taylor, a skillful rider and a trainer of experience, mounted Henry for the third heat, the boy Walden not having ridden him with sufficient tact in the former heat to receive the admiration of the backers of the son of Sir Archy. Purdy took the lead at the start, and making good use of his whip and spurs, kept Eclipse hard at work throughout the four miles. Henry made a gallant struggle for the front, but the hardy champion of the north could not be passed; and Henry was too weak, in the last half mile of the race, to astonish the multitude with one of his marvelous flights of speed down the home stretch. He lost the race and the north was exultant; while southern hearts felt sore and southern pride was humbled.

Over two hundred thousand dollars changed hands at the Union Course on that 27th day of May, 1823. And that night mail packets and mail couriers carried the news south, north, and west from New York. In every country town the people gathered in great numbers, hours before the courier could possibly arrive, in eager anticipation of the news. The race created national interest and it was regarded as a contest of national importance.

Those were the palmy days of the turf, and the Union Course was then in the zenith of its fame. General Ridgely, of Baltimore, Captain Cox, of Washington, and John Allen, Esq., of Philadelphia, were the judges of the race; and they reported that the first heat was run in 7 minutes 37½ seconds, the second heat in 7 minutes 49 seconds, and the third in 8 minutes 24 seconds; thus making the aggregate time 23 minutes 50½ seconds which is equivalent to an average of about one mile in 1 minute 59 seconds. American Eclipse, as an aged horse, being nine years old in the spring of 1823, carried 126 pounds, while Henry was burdened with 108 pounds; the advantage in weight clearly being on the side of the former, since the latter was his junior by five years.—From "The Running Turf in America," by HAMILTON BUSBEY, in Harper's Magazine for June.

MRS. ALLEN'S

Hair Restorer & Zylobalsamum

Are so uniformly grateful and beneficial, that they are with justice called the natural strengtheners of the human hair. They are two entirely separate and distinct preparations, not to be used together at one time.

Mrs. Allen's Hair Restorer

Never fails to satisfy the most refined and cultivated. A guarantee goes with every bottle, that it will quickly restore gray or white hair to its original youthful beauty, gloss and color; after its use a few times the hair will grow thicker and stronger. It will stop its falling and induce a healthy and luxuriant growth. It is an exquisite hair dressing, agreeable, harmless and healthy. Entirely different from most other preparations for the hair, its composition and ingredients are nourishing, giving life and vigor to the Roots.

Mrs. Allen's Zylobalsamum

This exquisite preparation is free from any sediment, and is a toilet treasure. The urgent want of a simple Hair Dressing, for the youth of both sexes, first induced the manufacture of the Zylobalsamum, and the sale of it is perfectly immense, not only in this country, but in Europe.

EXTRACTS FROM A FEW LETTERS.

"Your Zylobalsamum is used by every member, young and old, of our family, and we consider it invaluable. Should any gray hairs appear, we shall try your Hair Restorer, which we hear very highly spoken of."

"Father and mother use your Hair Restorer, and are delighted with it. It soon restored their gray locks to their youthful color, but daughters and son still find in the Zylobalsamum all their hair requires."

From the Principal of one of our large Female Seminaries: "Your Zylobalsamum has been used for many years by myself and family, and is the favorite among our young ladies."
